The Antigo Journal states that because of snow blockades in Illinois holding up the movement of railway coal from the mines the Chicago and Northwestern Railway was compelled to fall back on its storage piles here for a few days for coal to operate trains on the Ashland division. Were it not for the presence of the storage piles here the division would have had to bring coal down from Ashland. The daily consumption of coal on the Ashland division is about 1,200 tons.

SWEDEN EXPECTS AN EARLY PEACE

Axel Lindegren has just received a letter from his brother, Aaron Lindegren, in Stockholm, Sweden, in which the writer states that it is the opinion of Swedish people the war will not continue another year.

Aaron writes that stories regarding Germany's inability to much longer endure the hardships of war are freely circulated in Sweden. He states that regardless of reports to the contrary the poorer people of Germany are suffering for want of food. It is the belief of the majority of the Swedish people that Germany is afraid of the Americans and that just as soon as Uncle Sam has a large sized army in the field the Kaiser will be ready to throw up the sponge at any price.

According to Aaron Sweden and the other Scandinavian countries will manage to keep out of the war.

TO REENGAGE IN MILK BUSINESS

Vern McLaughlin is about to re-engage in the milk delivery business in Rhinelander and has purchased the outfit formerly used by the Rhinelander Creamery and Produce Company. He expects to be ready to serve customers the first of January. His route will comprise the entire city.

For a number of years Mr. McLaughlin conducted a milk route here and had a large patronage. He will carry on the business along the same lines as before, which proved very satisfactory. Customers will be given the best of service at all times.

WARNS OF XMAS FIRE HAZARDS

Warning of the dangers of Christmas fires, coupled with advice on how best to prevent them, is contained in a circular letter sent out by the state industrial commission, copies of which have been received in Rhinelander. Starting with the double question, "Will Christmas be a day of joy, or a day of mourning in your household? Will death or fire in your home, store or church mar the pleasure of this and all future Yuletides?" the letter continues:

"It is up to you.

"Cotton, candles, children and matches make a very dangerous Christmas combination. Every year this combination casts a dark gloom over many American households, and in addition is responsible for a considerable loss of property by fire.

"All cotton is needed, this year, in clothing and ammunition factories, so let us use metallic tinsel, asbestos fibre and powdered mica for decorations and imitation snow, instead of the highly combustible cotton.

"Have an electrician install a cluster of colored electric light bulbs to light the Christmas tree. Above all, keep matches away from children. As long as they can find matches, they will light and re-light the candles, when you may not be watching, and are very liable to get their clothing on fire. Adults should light the candles.

"Have a firm standard for the tree to prevent all liability of tipping over by children. Take immediate care of all papers and packing material coming with presents and decorations. After the celebration remove the tree to a safe place, before the needles become dry. Failure to do this often results in Christmas tree fires as late as January.

"Remember also that the firemen of your city are entitled to a 'Merry Christmas' as much as you. A fire in zero weather may mean frozen hands and feet, pneumonia and death to some of them.

"Shall it be a little caution and prevention now, or a life of regret and self-incrimination?

"It is up to you."

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

WHY THEY CALL IT ANTIGO

(George Morrow Mayo, in the Louisville Courier-Journal)
And here's to the Blue of the wind-swept North
When we meet on the fields of France.
May the spirit of Grant be with you all
As the sons of the North advance!
And here's to the Gray of the sun-kissed South
When we meet on the fields of France.
May the spirit of Lee be with you all
As the sons of the South advance.
And here's to the Blue and the Gray as one!
When we meet on the fields of France.
May the spirit of God be with us all
As the sons of the flag advance.

In a recent raid at Antigo in a cellar, a poker game was broken up in which played a Greek, a Chinaman, an Irishman, a Swede and a Polack. This reminds us how Antigo derived its name. In an early day before so much silk hose was seen in Antigo and when the Indians ran wild, Walt. Dawley played a game of poker with an Indian. When Walt. won the red-skin said, "Huh, see em antigo" and the name and game stuck there ever since. In Crandon they play "chummy". In Rhinelander its "schmear". In Pelican they do the same And drink a little beer. But in Antigo they play a game "Poker"—it's not so slow; We didn't thing you'd keep it up, Shame on you, Antigo—Harold Brady in Crandon Republican.

The Christmas Fire

By HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD

THE tree grew green in the forest,
Grew green in the sun and the dew;

His branches reached for the shadows,
He feathered his tops in the blue,
And happy the air about him
Wherever his balsams flew.

Drenched with the rains of the summer,
Fine from his stems spun the showers,

Soft dropped the snow on his mantle,
Dream work of silver and flowers,
And over him white light trailing
The stars swam through darkling hours.

Groping where great rock pillars
Stand shouldering rank on rank,
His roots at the cold sweet sources
The ancient juices drank,
And he swept with the earth companion

As the vast skies rose and sank.
His boughs brushed low on your forehead

As a passing wing might brush,
When night winds made shrill music
In the heavens, and hush, oh, hush!
For deep in his deepest covert
He hid the hermit thrush.

Low have they laid the giant,
And they hale him home with mirth,
And they fan the fires that twinkle,
And sing round his mossy girth,
And make with a mighty magic
The life of the Christmas hearth.

For his flames give the spicy fragrance
Of the summer atmosphere,
While the breath of the woody knots
Lies,
The taster and light of the year,
The blossom, the bird song, the breezes,
He sheds through the Christmas cheer.

And the message of peace and blessing
In the great fire's glow they mark,
With the lad from the war and the sailor

Home from his teasing bark
Ere the Christmas bells come chiming
Like the touch of the frost on the dark.

And widely on pane and ceiling
Sparkles a fiery foam,
And the children dance with their shadows
Like the forest sprite with the gnome.

While the great log roars and blazes
The heart of the joy of home.

And the cheek that has long been withered
With an old rose blooms once more
As memories glow like the embers
Whose fashes sink and soar

With the Christmas fire's warm glow
Where the log burns red at the core,
—Woman's Home Companion.

The Christmas Spirit.

However it may be, when Christmas comes it finds us all to a greater or less degree ready to cry "A merry Christmas to all" and to the best of our ability keep it with good cheer. Deep down in our hearts every one of us cherishes what may be called the Christmas sentiment. Even if we go, as so many have done of past years, outside of the walls of our own home we still observe our Yuletide in a more or less conventional manner. We may escape our relatives, save ourselves the bother of home preparations, pretend that we have cut adrift from the old fashioned methods, but it all amounts in reality to the same thing. We are animated, after all, by the same spirit, whether we are in a country house, a flat, a restaurant or hotel.

A Joyful Yule.

Then drink to the holly berry,
With key down, key down derry;
The mistletoe we'll pledge also,
And at Christmas all be merry.

Intolerance.

The truth is, the notion that an intellectual recognition of certain dogmas is the essential condition of salvation lies at the bottom of all intolerance in matters of religion. Under this impression, men are too apt to forget that the great end of Christianity is love, and that charity is its crowning virtue; they overlook the beautiful significance of the parable of the heretic Samaritan and the orthodox Pharisee; and thus, by suffering their speculative opinions of the best world to make them uncharitable and cruel in this, they are really the worse for them, even admitting them to be true.—Whittier.

Baby Despot Dethroned
A young father came to me the other day to talk about his baby. The latter was raising hob in the household and showing mighty little appreciation of the hospitality his fond parents had showered upon him.

"Why do you know," he said, "that baby has his mother whipped? She is a slave and he's got the Kaiser backed off the boards when it comes to despotism. He won't eat when the doctor says he ought to and is bound to eat when the doctor says he shouldn't. My wife is trying to steer a course between what her head dictates and the one her heart pulls her toward?"

Two weeks later he came in again to tell me that my advice had been good. "It was a hard fight, though, Doctor. It was necessary for my wife to dig her nails into her palms for the scheduled time. And I wasn't very happy, either."

"When we put him to bed at six p. m. he was as miserable as the town drunk in a village which has entered the dry column. Each night his protests grew shorter, however, and we could see that he was coming to a realization that he was in as bad a way as the Prussians are so far as any hope of ultimate victory was concerned. Now he is acting more like a civilized human being."

"And my wife is a new woman. With a chance for regular hours of sleep for herself, she has taken on a new lease of life. Her nerves are in good shape again, and she isn't fussing now over a lot of imaginary troubles. She goes about straightening out the real ones as methodically and with as much self-confidence as though she had been rearing babies all her life."

"Two weeks ago we did not think much of babies and neither of us wanted another but now—why, Doctor, you ought to see what a cute little chap that baby is and he is—"

Here I led my visitor to the door. There was other work to be done that afternoon.

LETTERS TO SOLDIERS

Major-General Harry A. Greene, in command of Camp Lewis, Wash., the largest cantonment in the U. S., tells what kind of letters to write to your soldier boy.

He says:
"If you want the soldier you love best to be a good soldier leave the tears out of your letters and tell him instead how 'Shen' liked the hot tea and yesterday."

"Tell the sub staff: Tell them the little things that are happening. Tell them what you had for Sunday dinner, and if John was interested in Minnie Smith, tell him all about Minnie."

"Don't tell your soldier what a sacrifice he is making for his country, and how homesick he must be, and how much you miss him. He knows the sacrifice he is making, and if he is a good son or brother you may rest assured that when he has leisure in which to meditate he will suffer homesickness and will think of how you miss him."

"Many and many a man has had the blue devils driven away by an old home paper that told him that Deacon Henderson shingled his barn last week."

"Homesickness is a terrible thing. All of us I guess have suffered from it—I know I have. There is just one remedy for a homesick soldier—letters from home."

"Write often, even if you have only time to scribble a post card. Mail time is a happy time in the army. Make your soldier happy every time the mail orderly calls."

Be Sure of Your "Eats."

If there's a certain food that you are uncertain about don't eat it, advises a physician. There are too many good things in the world to eat that you know are good for you.

He said that he is heartily in sympathy with the German government in this war and would fight for Germany if he could. He would never fight for America and would do everything within his power to injure this country's cause. To the judge he intimated that he is a German spy. Toepper was ordered confined in the county jail for thirty days, awaiting action by the government and his bonds placed at $500.

When searched at the jail a note book was found on Toepper containing names of officials and prominent men in this city and county. Rough sketches resembling maps also were found in the book.

It is understood that since his appearance in court Toepper has declared himself to be a spy in the employ of Germany. Judge Smith Sheriff Rodd, Chief Straub and other officials are inclined to the opinion that the man is just as he represents himself to be and is not faking or mentally deranged as some have said.

Toepper informed Chief Straub that had it not been for the liquor he would not have been caught. He said that he had been in many of the largest cities in the country and had never been molested by the police. "I got drunk and talked too much and that's why you nabbed me," he told the chief. Toepper claims to have clothes and other personal possessions in Detroit, Mich. He is an intelligent appearing man and speaks good English.

"ASK MAMMA."

By C. B. LEWIS.

(Copyright, 1917, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
Then he turned from looking at his "Sadie" in the chorus on the stage, and looked at the girl in the box with him.

He was Clarence Devoe, a young man with a rich father. He had been invited to a box party and Dorothy Davenport was one of the party. Clarence had cut a dash, as some rich men's sons do. He had smashed up three or four autos, run in debt wherever possible, had been almost expelled from college and was proud of his career.

Clarence had simply known that there was a Dorothy Davenport, and he had scarcely spoken ten words to her on the way to the theater. All of a sudden, as stated at the opening, he turned and looked at her. She was a young girl, eighteen years old. She was bashful. She happened to look at Clarence as he looked at her. Was that a gleam of love that shot forth from the eyes of each one? It might have been, for that is one of the ways of Cupid.

Clarence mused to himself: "Say, there is some style there while you are talking. There are good looks there and gobs of money behind her. I don't know her mother, but I guess she will be willing. Her governor don't count, of course. He's too busy making more money. I'll make myself a little more agreeable."

That very morning, after paying up his debts, among which was $250 for bouquets for the green room, Clarence Devoe's father had said to him:

"Boy, you have got to quit this mad career! You are now a man in age, and I'll soon repudiate your debts. Why in the Old Harry don't you find a nice girl and marry and settle down? There's lots of 'em in this big town. Marry one of them and I'll take you into partnership."

The words had made little impression on Clarence at the time, but now that he came to cast his looks on Dorothy Davenport, he recalled them. Why not win her? Of course "Sadie" would lament and weep and almost break her little heart, but such things had to be. Clarence called at the Davenport mansion. He was received very gracefully by the girl's mother. He paid little more than a formal call. Dorothy was brought into the room, and he had a few words with her in the presence of her mother. It was her first courtship, and she was a little abashed. When a remark was addressed to her she turned to her mother to secure the privilege of answering it. This was a charming bashfulness of hers. She spoke of him as "Mr. Devoe." Other girls had been in the habit of calling him "Devoe" or "Bob" or "Old Man."

Clarence called again and again. It seemed to please Mrs. Davenport, and it seemed to please his father. Whether Miss Dorothy was pleased or not, the young man could not be certain. He would have given the thing up but for the novelty of it. He could boast to her and she never replied with a word of doubt or censure. Other girls had boldly told him to "cut that out," but such aggressive expressions never passed Dorothy's lips. After several months she got as far as to say that it must be awfully nice to have a house out in the country in summer and one in town in the winter, but she lingered right there for some time. If anybody had asked her if she loved she would have answered:

"I don't know whether I do or not, but I will ask mamma and then tell you."

Clarence mended his ways somewhat. He snatched just as many autos, and he spent just as much of his father's money, but he didn't go to the theater quite so much, and, when he did go, it was to escort Dorothy and her mother, and sometimes two or three other ladies besides. Yes, Clarence was becoming quite a model young man. His mother was a little afraid that he was becoming almost too good, and his father had some faint hope that he would yet become a Sunday school teacher.

It was one evening when Clarence and Dorothy were left alone in the parlor together. There was no clearing of the throat to get his voice in trim; there was no attempt at pathos or tenderness. Just as carelessly as if he were making a bet that he could speed his auto at seventy miles per hour, the young man said:

"Dorothy, I love you."

"Yes," she replied, as if she had been expecting the declaration at any time for the past year.

"I will love, cherish and protect you," continued Clarence.

"And that will be so nice of you!" "Can't you set the day within a couple of months, Dorothy, dear?"

"I—I think so, Clarence; but I will ask mamma and tell you the next time you come."

"You love me, don't you, Dorothy?" appealed the young man.

"Oh, yes," was the calm reply. "Mamma says I am old enough to be in love."

That was all, except that Clarence went out and sent four American beauty rose bouquets to the theater. They were meant as fond adieux to four different "Sadies," and as a gentle hint that he would not be seen in the green room again.

WILL INTERN TOEPPER IN ATLANTA PRISON CAMP

Toepper, the young German who was arrested by Chief Straub last Friday on the charge of being a spy, will be interned in the United States government prison camp at Atlanta, Ga. A special government agent who was in Rhinelander, informed the local officials that Toepper will soon be taken to Atlanta. In the meantime he will be held in the county jail.

Toepper was arrested by Chief Straub in Thayer St. saloon Friday night. He was under the influence of alcohol and was talking in a manner highly favorable to Germany. He was said to have been very insulting in his remarks. It is asserted that Chief Straub arrived just in time to save the man from injury at the hands of irate citizens. All the way to the jail Toepper continued his abuse of the United States. Chief Straub said it was all he could do to control his temper while with the fellow.

Before Judge C. F. Smith in Municipal court Toepper declared that he is 23 years old and the son of a wealthy and influential man in Germany. He said that he had been receiving money from Germany regularly up until a short time ago, when the remittances ceased, and he was forced to go

Was No Slacker.

A story is told of a lady whose son had served during the Spanish war, in which she told of the different battles and engagements he had been in, and she finished up by saying that she knew all about war, as her son had fought in the Battle of Manila in the Philippine Islands.

"Coon-Cat" of Maine.

The so-called "coon-cat," which is common all over Maine, is held by natives to be a cross between the cat and the raccoon. Biologists ridicule this belief; nevertheless many half wild cats in Maine have the typical raccoon tail with short forelegs, pointed snout and long hair.

The Christ Cradle

A CHRISTMAS BALLAD

By Margaret J. Preston

("Christ Cradle" is the old Saxon name for mince pie)

It was the time of the old crusaders,
And back with his broken band
The lord of Lancaran castle
Had come from the Holy Land.

It was Christmas eve in the castle;
The Yule log burnt in the hall,
And helmet and shield and banner
Threw shadows upon the wall.

And the baron was telling stories
To the little ones at his knees
Of some of the holy places
He had visited overseas.

Then he spoke of the watching shepherds,
Who saw such marvelous sights
And the song that the angels chanted
That first of the Christmas nights.

He told of the star whose shining
Outsparked the brightest gem;
He told of the hallowed cradle
They shrouded him at Bethlehem.

And the eyes of the children glistened
To think that a rack sufficed,
With only the straw for blankets,
To cradle the baby Christ.

"Nay, dry up your tears, my darlings," Right gayly the baron cried,
"For nothing but smiles must greet me!"

I'm home, and it's Christmastide!

"Come wife, I have thought of a cradle,
Another than this, I say,
Watch thou in thy skill shall make me
To honor this Christmas day.

"We would not forget the manger,
So choose of thy platters fair
The one that is largest, deepest,
And cover it in thy care.

"With flakes of the richest pastry,
Wrought cunningly by thy hands,
That thus it may bring before us
The wrap of the swaddling bands.

"And out of thy well stored larder
Set forth of thy very best,
Is aught that we have too precious
To honor this Christmas guest?

"Strew meats of the finest shredding
The straw was chopped in the stall;
Bring butter and wine and honey
To lavish ground them all.

"Set raisins and figs of Smyrna
That draw to the east our thoughts;
Let spices that call of the Magi,
With their gifts, to mind be brought.

"Let sweets that suggest frankincense,
Let fruits from the southern sea
Be given ungrudging. Remember,
His choicest he gave for thee!

"Then over the piled up platter
A cover of pastry draw,
With a star in its midst to mind us
Of that which the wise men saw.

"Christ's cradle is what we'll call it,
And ever, sweet wife, I pray,
With such thou wilt make us merry
At dinner each Christmas day!"

Optimistic Thought.
An amiable disposition is a good letter of introduction.

BE CAREFUL IN GIVING ANSWERS

"Unless registrants in answers to questions in the questionnaire describe definitely the particular work they are doing they are very likely to lose their chance for deferred classifications," said Maj. A. E. Fitzpatrick in a statement based on a telegram from the provost marshal general.

Registrants are urged not to answer the question regarding their occupation by saying, for instance, they are railroad men, but by saying they are tracklayers, trainmen or carshop repairers, and the like.

A man should not say he is a mechanic, but should describe the particular kind of work he does and indicate the department in which he does it.

Had an Idea.

William was a clever youngster, but his cleverness sometimes led him into funny mistakes. Once when he was traveling with his family they stopped for breakfast at a restaurant. William was permitted to make his own choice of food, but after the waiter had gone he grew doubtful of his wisdom in choosing and said, "I wish I could counteract that order."

What Others Like to Eat at Christmastide

SPAIN loves her turkeys. Nor does she find it necessary to run them to death on the farms in order to make their meat tender, for the fowls are driven into town from long distances, and their feet are tarred to withstand the hardness of the roads. For three days before Noche Buena the streets of the cities and villages are thick with squawking poultry and bleating lambs and kids that are destined for the slaughter.

Cuba fattens up her turkeys on walnuts to make their flesh more toothsome. Mexico grinds the cooked turkey to a paste, which is mixed with chili, raisins, currants, wine and a few other ingredients into what is called mole de guajalote. France, too, although she shows her partiality for turkeys by cramming them with truffles, coquettes with her Christmas menu. Now she throws her scarf to blood red sausage, fat and juicy; now to stewed hare with unfermented wine; again to pheasants, to hazen hens, to leath cocks.

In Brittany the home cured ham gives savor to the rye bread and to the chocolate porridge, especially dedicated to Noel. In Cuba baked hams, preciously boiled in champagne and well sugared, vie for favor with a Spanish piece de resistance called "Moros and Christians," in remembrance of a page in Spanish history, and made of black beans and rice.

In southern Italy eels, curled round with tall in mouth, defy time on the Christmas board by the emblem of eternity. In the smaller Italian cities on the day before Christmas the air is shrill and cries of kids being brought to market in panniers swung from donkey backs. Chickens, pigeons, tripe, boiling hot, are other dainties appropriate to the season, as well as turkeys, geese and calf's head.

German and Scandinavian countries are noted for the bounty of their Christmas cheer. In rural neighborhoods the tables are spread from Christmas to Epiphany. England, too, offers wide and varied hospitality. In Warwickshire, for instance, they serve roast crab apples with chine of pork and elder wine. Yorkshire has its frumenty, its Yule cakes and plum pudding. Scotland boasts one dish all her own—haddock, stuffed with oatmeal and onions.—Chicago Tribune.

How Man is Blessed.
Land is nature's gift to man. If you own some you are among the favored children of nature. One gift calls for another in exchange. Brain and brawn is man's gift to nature.

FRANCE FIGHTING GREATEST ENEMY

"The greatest enemy that France is fighting today is not the Hun, but the Great White Plague, Tuberculosis."

This startling statement, made before a monster Red Cross rally in Milwaukee by Henry J. Allen, a newspaper editor from Wichita, Kansas, who has recently returned from France where he served as an officer in the Red Cross, is giving new impetus to workers engaged in the annual campaign for financing Wisconsin's organized fight against tuberculosis. It made Milwaukee people realize, as they had not realized before, that the present Red Cross Christmas seal campaign is a genuine war service and that large contributions to it are fully as much a patriotic obligation as are generous gifts to other phases of war work. Its message is to the people of Wisconsin as well as of Milwaukee.

That France, by the execution of the program which it is instituting with the aid of American experts and American money, will do more toward the control of tuberculosis in the next four years than has been accomplished in this country in the last twenty-five years was another of Mr. Allen's striking statements which carries with it a lesson for America and for Wisconsin. France is now doing under compulsion, with the aid of American experts and money and under American direction, what America has been doing voluntarily for years. Facing national destruction from tuberculosis, it is adopting on an elaborate scale the sure means of fighting tuberculosis which have been used with success in this country for some time past but which are not used here as extensively as they should be because it is slow work to arouse the public from its indifference.

If France's experience is a warning to America that war is sure to increase tuberculosis, what France is doing in the way of establishing sanatoria and securing expert tuberculosis specialists and nurses certainly contains a challenge to Americans to carry on the work in this country more vigilantly and more rapidly than ever before. This can best be done by increasing the working power of the existing anti-tuberculosis agencies and their working power is largely dependent on funds with which to carry on an aggressive, intensive and extensive campaign. In Wisconsin this agency is the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and it is solely dependent, financially, upon the annual sale of Red Cross Christmas seals. If it is to meet increased needs and safeguard the people of Wisconsin against an increased danger, it must have increased resources.

The way to supply them is to buy seals.

Depends on Point of View.

The Oneida Building Company

is the only concern ever organized in Rhinelander to build and sell houses to workingmen at a low price and on a low cash payment.

After the first payment they allow the buyer to pay about the same as his rent would be. They furnish modern cottages, bungalow style, with hardwood floors, water and sink, drain pipe, electric wired, cellar and stone foundation. These houses have four rooms below and two, and some of them three, upstairs.

They have built and sold five houses, and have two nearly completed that are for sale.

River street will soon be called Riverside Drive, these houses are changing the appearance of the neighborhood so much. The west side is the only part of the city where any expansion can be made and let the people be near their work and the mills.

ELECTION JAN. 14 IN VILAS COUNTY

Voters in Vilas and Iron counties will vote at a special election on January 14th for an assemblyman to represent these counties. The election is necessary to fill the assembly vacancy caused by the resignation of E. A. Everett. Mr. Everett was appointed a member of the Board of Control last summer.

The following letter to the News regarding the calling of a special election was received last Friday from Governor Philipp:

"My dear Mr. Menefee: I have your letter of the 3rd inst., relative to calling a special election in Vilas and Iron counties for the purpose of electing an assemblyman to succeed the Honorable E. A. Everett, resigned.

I am pleased to advise you that I have issued today the call for an election, and have fixed the date as Monday, January 14th, 1918.

Yours very truly,

Not Until "Next Christmas."

It was said the other day by an old southerner in Washington that no home loving Virginian ever would move "until after the next Christmas." The next Christmas comes and goes, but there is still another to come, and the moving is put off and happily will be put off until the holiday spirit has gone from the South, a spirit that will go when the South goes.—New York Evening Post.

Gypsies' Christmas.

The gypsy Christmas is a love feast and a carnival in one. The wandering folk come together in tribal celebration to choose their queen for the beginning year. Each clan has its own usages and superstitions. In Roumania the gypsy queen is crowned with roses, and roses tip her scepter and her wand. In place of holly and mistletoe the hardy little rosebud which blossoms at this season on the apex of the hills is honored not for its sweetness merely, but because of a fair Christmas legend which the gypsy folk would make distinctly their own.—Chicago Tribune.

Kingdom of the Free.

Siam is called by its inhabitants Thal, or Muang Thal, which means "free," or "the kingdom of the free." The area of the kingdom is about 193,000 square miles, about 45,000 being in the Malay Peninsula; that is, its total area is a little greater than half the area of British Columbia, but its population number 8,200,000, or about equal to that of the Dominion of Canada.

BIG DINNER--LITTLE PRICE

Often there is no difference in the price with some dealers. It is up to him when he buys his stock. ### This Lad Had a Real Christmas Tree

"THE question of how to meet the needs of the education we wanted our boy to have was with us from his birth, and it was my love of all kinds of trees which solved our problem," said the mother of a growing boy.

"He came near the Christmas season, and I wanted to do something to mark the wonderful event. My mind turned to trees. What could be more appropriate than to plant a tree and let this child of nature grow up with mine?"

"Then came the thought, 'Why not choose a fruit tree, something that will yield a tangible profit to be laid aside as the beginning of a fund for the boy's education?' And so the plan took shape, and as we live in a warm climate, a fruit tree was planted each year on Christmas day for the little one."

"Soon the lad was taking an active part in the ceremony, and by the time the first fruit appeared he was old enough to take a real delight in the proceeds of its sale, which went into his bank. A few years more found him in entire charge of a small orchard. His ever growing bank account has always been his own, subject to the inspection and advice of his father, who keeps before him the purpose for which it was started."

If you live where the climate prevents tree planting on Christmas day could you not give your son the price of a fruit tree and let it be planted when the proper season arrives?—Philadelphia Ledger

Why a Rostrum?

The word rostrum is of Roman origin. The rostrum was a platform, or elevated place, in the Roman forum from which orations, pleadings and funeral eulogies were delivered. It was so called because it was adorned with the rostra, or beaks of the ships taken in the first naval victory gained by the republic.

EAGLE RIVER

(Eagle River Review)

Mrs. F. J. Thron was called to Wakefield, Mich., by a message announcing that her son Edward Bauer, an employee of the C. and N. W. there had been injured while moving a crate of saws which fell upon him. Later reports from her stated that although unconscious for ten hours, and weak from loss of blood, he is now doing nicely and his mother is expected home Saturday.

The death of Mrs. Henry Price occurred at her home at Clintonville, Monday. The family formerly resided here as do several brothers of Mr. Price now. Fred Price left yesterday to attend the funeral to be held at Marion.

Among the items of business acted upon by the county board last week we hear of the following:

Laid over the county fair grounds and poor farm proposition.

Levied $23,000 for highways and maintenance.

Levied about $14,000 for state aid highways in various parts of the county.

Voted to adopt provision made by last legislature whereby town chairmen will be elected for three years, one supervisor for two years and one for one year.

In apportionment a total of $7,600,000.00 was placed as valuation on real and personal property. Of this amount the various towns were allotted: Arbor Vitae, 10.35 percent; Conover, 6.17; Eagle River, 5.18; Farmington, 5.64; Flambeau, 4.40; Lincoln, 6.28; Phelps, 16.14; Pine Lake, 5.30; Presque Isle, 21.41; State Line, 13.84; Washington, 5.29.

Raised salaries as follows: Highway Commissioner to $2000; County Clerk, Treasurer, Register of Deeds and District Attorney to $1400 each. Clerk of Court to $500 and fees. County Supt. to $1200 with allowance of $400 for expenses. Re-elected County Agricultural Representative for two years at an increased salary.

KILLING DOES MUST CEASE

Action to put an end to the killing of does and fawns in Wisconsin may be expected before another deer-hunting season, it is announced at the office of the state conservation commission at Madison. Commissioner W. E. Barber, at the head of the game department, has just returned from an extended trip thru the northern part of the state.

The kill of deer this season is by far the largest in the history of the state he reports. Conditions have been ideal, with snow just right for tracking and leaves gone from the trees and underbrush. Out of the immense kill, from 60 to 70 percent are does and fawns. This means that three more years would practically exterminate deer in Wisconsin. It is expected that a hearing on petitions filed will be held soon and either a closed season announced or reversion to the one-buck rule decided upon, under section 2921 of the statutes.

Unusual care among hunters this year, it was said, has kept fatalities at a minimum.

The commission will establish two new game refuges in the state, one in Douglas county and another in Barron county. Each will be a 5,000 acre tract of wooded land.

Milk for Babies.

Jersey and Guernsey cows give rich fat-producing milk, and for that reason their milk has been regarded as too rich for infants. It is still true that the milk of the Ayrshire and the Holstein is better suited to infants than the Jersey and Guernsey milk, but the cause is not the fat, as has been thought. The fact is that the casein of the Ayrshire and Holstein milk is decidedly more flocculated and not so readily curdled in the stomach, so that it is the most easily digested by children.

CAMOUFLAGE

You have run across this word often during the past year.

It is another of those subtle shades of weaving which have no equivalent in the English language. The French saw it first.

A tiger is striped because he lurks in the tall yellow grass where the shadows fall in deep streaks. A leopard is spotted for the same reasons. A rabbit crouching in the dead grass or brush is hard to see. They are supplied with nature's camouflage.

No matter what the background may be a spotted object is less distinguishable than one of solid color, because the outline is more nearly destroyed. A part of the coloring is almost sure to fade into the background.

And so big guns are painted in splashes, and pictures of trees and grass are painted on long stripes of canvas which hide military operations.

The color of uniform is also camouflage. It has been found that olive drab quickly melts into the horizon and becomes invisible.

The war has brought back many primitive devices, and perhaps chief of them is camouflage, a protective principle of even the simplest of animal life.

Ideal Guestroom.

The guestroom need not be the best and sunniest room in the house, but it should be light and airy, and be so decorated and furnished as to be informal and homey. The ideal is to have a guestroom a little detached from the rooms which are occupied by the family. The bed should be the most comfortable bed procurable. If possible have twin beds.

Make Good Jelly.

Many of the wild fruits, such as the highbush cranberry, pinberry, and choke cherry, make good jellies.

The Artist.

He who is first in will needs the world to himself.—Gordon.

How to Adorn The Church For The Holiday

CHURCH decoration should be started at least a week before Christmas. Better be early and do the work deliberately rather than leave it and rush and slight the undertaking at the last moment.

Have decorations light and use color sufficient to make them cheerful. Work in plenty of red and white.

Everlasting flowers are good for the purpose. Bunches of immortelles can be broken up, wired into small bunches and used in various ways. These can be had in white, red, yellow and other colors.

Work color into the garlands at proper intervals to relieve the somber effect of the heavy dark green wreathings. Pampas plumes are excellent where they can be used away from gas-lights or danger of fire.

Holly branches are most useful and appropriate. Laurel, boxwood, wild smilax, branches of evergreen trees and tissue paper wreaths, bells and garlands all work in together effectively where a little taste and judgment are used in the arrangement.

Buy material without delay as dealers usually sell out completely before Christmas.

Letters for mottoes can be cut from gold, silver or colored paper or sheet wadding.

For covering mantels in the home evergreen boughs, wild smilax and holly are generally used; also for stair railings. Ground pine garlands are used for festooning around the walls and ceiling, over doors, stair rails, etc.

Outside decorations may consist of garlands over the front door, wreaths on the door and on the gateposts at the entrance to the yard.

In plants the Norfolk Island pine, araucaria, palms, large ferns, aspidistra, bay and box plants in tub are useful where they can be had. Churches oftentimes are able to borrow some of these from members. Where this is done arrangements should be made to keep the building sufficiently warm all the time the plants are in the church to prevent damage. Plants well wrapped in paper will carry quite a distance without injury in very cold weather. A closed car is used by florists for cold weather plant deliveries.—New York Sun.

The Wondrous Season.

Christmas—the same old story:
Sweet with its sweet old way;
The girls and the songs and glory,
The spirit of youth and play.
Christmas—the fabled Santa,
The tree with its magic light,
The stars and the drums and trumpets,
The toys and the tinsel bright.

Christmas—no change forever:
The letters to good old Kris,
The arms of the little children
And the lips that are sweet to kiss.
Christmas—the changeless beauty,
Older, and still so young
With its glory of childhood spirit
And its tales of the fairy tongue.

Christmas—the streets to show it,
The shops with their brilliant sight;
The windows of charm to glow it,
The festive and magic light.
Christmas—still still appealing
With its utter glory to men
As over their gray hearts stealing
Their boyhood comes again.

Christmas—the same old blessing,
The holy and lovely spell
Of tenderest trust and confessing,
And the glory of all things well.
Christmas—the wondrous reason,
As fresh in its joy today
As it was in the vanished visions
Of the childhoods far away.

And aren't you afraid you'll let some of them fall,
Perhaps my new sled or my sister's new doll?
Mr. Santa Claus Man, do the birds ever fly
As far up as you live up in the sky?
And are you great friends with the man in the moon?
Does he ride in your sleigh or isn't there room?
Oh, please, Mr. Santa Claus Man, let me know
About all these things that have puzzled me so.
Can't you manage it, somehow, my mind to relieve,
When you come down our chimney on next Christmas eve?

PRINTER IN DESPAIR

Sir Samuel Simms saw sweet Sarah Samson swimming. Suddenly she seemed sinking. Sir Samuel stood stunned. Striding seaward, spurning shingle, Sir Samuel swiftly swam Sarah-wards. Sir Samuel skillfully supported swooning Sarah. Swimming shorewards, Sir Samuel successfully surprised Sarah. Seeming somewhat shaky, Sir Samuel sampled some spirits—special Scotch. Sarah saw Sir Samuel's self-sacrificing spirit. Sir Samuel saw Sarah's sweetness. Sir Samuel soon sought Sarah Striding slowly, Sarah sighed softly. Sir Samuel seemed speechless.

"Say Something, Sir Samuel," said Sarah. "Say 'Sam, Sarah,'" said Sir Samuel. Sarah, smiling, shyly, softly said, "Sam." "Sarah—Sally," stammered Sir Samuel. "Sweet Sarah—Sweetheart."

Sarah solemnly surrendered. (Printer's remark: "Peace stop this; we are chort of eccccc.")—London Tit-Bits.

MEN SHOULD SKIP THIS

A little girl wrote the following composition on men:

"Men are what women marry. They drink and smoke and swear, but don't go to church. Perhaps if they wore bonnets they would. They are more logical than women, also more zoological. Both men and women sprang from monkeys, but the women sprang farther than the men."—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Merry Christmas to All

Hardwoods in America.

More valuable hardwoods are found in North America than are native to any other region of similar area in the temperate zones. In addition to these the great range in minimum temperatures, ranging from Canada down to Florida, and the wonderful Pacific coast, also enables us to grow a greater range of foreign hardwoods than may be found introduced to any other similar area in any zone.

Emerson's "White Plague."

Although Ralph Waldo Emerson lived past the allotted three score years and ten, his health was undermined by tuberculosis, and only a rough sea voyage saved him at one time from dying of the disease. His wife and two of his brothers died from it, and his life was a struggle against it. However, it released his marvelous gift of genius and made him America's greatest essayist.

No "Cyclones" on Land.

Of late years it has become common to call every violent storm a "cyclone," which is plainly erroneous. A cyclone never occurs except on the ocean, asserts a weather observer, because a cyclone is a violent, whirling storm of great area, and no such storm could occur on land. The so-called "cyclones" of the West are "tornadoes," which are whirling storms of great violence, but contracted in area. Tornadoes have been known whose greatest width did not exceed a few rods, and those which exceed several miles in width are very unusual.

Growing Dishrags.

It has been discovered that the thick, spongy gourd of the luffa plant, which grows easily and requires but little attention makes the best kind of dishcloths and bath sponges. An Ohio woman is making a good living raising them. She sold over 1,000 to one garage company alone for use in the washing of automobiles. Cut into strips the luffa gourd makes a kind of lace widely used by milliners, and it is also admirably adapted to the making of flower baskets.

Christmas Gifts From The Woods

THE paper birch is an especial treasure, but we never cut the bark from a living tree, even when deep in the woods, unless we know that the wood is doomed to be cut at once. Too many ignorant or thoughtless people do not hesitate to strip the beautiful papery bark from the living tree, not realizing probably that the bark is needed to protect the running of the sap and that the outer bark, so smooth and silvery, will never renew itself. So, even if death does not immediately follow, the beauty of the tree is gone, said Orra Parker Phelps in the Housekeeper.

Once I found a dead tree from which I was able to slip several feet of bark in rings. This only needed to be separated into convenient sizes, fitted with tight bottoms, sewed in place by raffia or sweet grass, and lifting lids attached, to make boxes ready to fill with Christmas sweets.

In making laurel wreathing or garlanding we have found that by taking small twigs and winding one on to another, using light picture wire as binding, the wreathing makes very rapidly and easily.

When the white pine cones fall we gather bushels of them. And such treasures as the cones are! In the open fire they make a glorious blaze—fit background for wonderful fire castles—and as for kindlings they are absolutely unsurpassed.

Remembering that the two little cousins living on the Pacific coast once sent a barrel of the Western cones to a much loved poet, greatly to his delight, we tried sending a sack of cones, gayly decked with laurel, to a city friend who loves an open fire. In the very bottom was a small "chunk" with a paper bearing these words: "N. B.—This is a Yule Log." Another time an armful of the cone bearing branches of the red pine were sent to a friend.

But our especial Christmas gifts, the ones we send to the nearest and dearest, are our little Christmas trees. We take a day and go up to the mountain swamp where grew the cranberries, and there we choose wee, little shapely trees, getting them, so far as we can, from the deep shade of other trees, for these are doomed to an early death anyway. We fit each little spruce securely to a board, covering it with moss and trailing vines. Then we deck the tree. Of course the gifts must be tiny and varied to suit those to whom they go.

How Vessels Sink.

Nearly every class or design of vessel sinks in a particular way. For instance, the old type of single-bottom steamers, with few or no bulkheads—that is, in the modern sense of the term—almost invariably founders on more or less of an even keel and not with the bow or stern up in the air.

COMPANY L BOYS MAY SOON LEAVE FOR FRANCE

Camp MacArthur, Waco, Tex.—There are persistent rumors that the Thirty-second division will leave here in a few days for the first stage of their journey to "somewhere in France."

Every soldier here and most of the officers of the camp talk it freely and it is during holiday week that they are to go. It is known here that Gen. Haan's division has met the hearty approval of the war department's inspectors and that they have been pronounced as ready.

All machine gun companies are undergoing special attention for the reason that recent orders state plainly that those of this division will be given no further training in France, but that certain sectors will be turned over to them on their arrival on the line. This applies especially to machine gun companies, but there are several other arms of the service, notable engineers, who will go into action as soon as they reach French soil.

Gen. Haan's order that no more soldiers of the Thirty-second division are to be married without official sanction simply means that official investigation must be made of all such proposed marriages. While there has been little, if any, cause for official disapproval for weddings of Wisconsin and Michigan soldiers here, there is a scandal in many camps. It is reported with Washington authority, therefore, that many women have pursued the soldiers and that cases are known where one woman has married three and even five soldiers at different camps. In this way, the sum set aside for the wife's allotment reverts to the adventuress, and even large sums of insurance money might be secured.

Hang Up a Jar Instead of A Stocking

NO LITTLE Mexican boy or girl ever thinks of hanging up a stocking. They have something far more interesting. Three or four days before Christmas stands spring up about the alameda, or open park, without which no Mexican village is complete. All about these shops are hung the pinatas, which take the place of Christmas stockings. These are apparently great dolls 2 or 3 feet tall, dressed in tissue paper, with paper mache faces and dangling legs and arms. In reality their flowing paper garments conceal earthen jars for the holding of candies.

Sometimes the pinatas are in the form of angels or fairies, but usually they represent some person prominent in Mexico. President and Mrs. Diaz used to smile from every stand. The Mexican child may live in a hut built of flat stones piled together in a public lot, but he has his pinata at Christmas time.

In the better homes the pinatas are strung on a rope across a room. They are already heavy with their load of dices, or candies, and they dangle somewhat dangerously over the heads of the beholders. Finally, the tallest man is blindfolded, given a stout cane and turned round and round. Leaping up, he strikes at the suspended figures. Amid shrieks of laughter and directions he keeps striking until he hits one of the jars. "Crack!" go its sides, and, being made only of baked clay, they crumble away and the sweets come pouring out. Nobody is too dignified to scramble for them. The older people are on their knees with the children. Everybody gets at least a mouthful. Then another is blindfolded, turned about and told to strike for another sugary deluge.—L. Crozer in McCall's Magazine.

With Dickens
At ChristmasHe Made Yuletide Real
Again

*BEFORE the Christmas hearth I muse alone,
And visions of the past,
Both grave and gay,
Rise from the ruddy coals;
Outside the moon
Of homeless winds is chidden by the lay Sweet sung by children who Keep holiday,
Making the season's mood
Their very own.
And slowly, while I gaze and dream and grow
Less lonesome, do the sights
And sounds of earth
Fade, and my fancy wanders
To and fro
With a great master of lament and mirth,
Who warded his hand to gild
The long ago.*

*A wondrous company! Micawber smiles
In spite of poverty, and Little Nell,
Too frail a flower, travels her weary miles,
Then falls on sleep, and David tries to tell
The trials of the young; now Pickwick's spell
Makes laughter easy; on a pinnacle
Of sacrifice sits Carton midst war's wiles.*

*Drolls, rillains, gentlefolk of all degrees
Make populous the air, a hundred strong.
Last comes, as fits the season, Scrooge, his knees
A-tremble, till he harks the Christmas song
Of lore and knows that spite and greed are wrong
And how that charity is more than these.
Master of human hearts! No Christmastide
Whose chants are not the sweeter and whose cheer
Is not more blest since Dickens lived and died!
The savor of his teachings makes each year
Richer in homely virtues, doth endear
Man unto man; hence shall he long abide.*

—Richard Burton.

PERKINS QUILTS RING ACTIVITIES

At the age of 27 years and with a record of over two hundred victories Billy Perkins, well known boxer and wrestler of this city, announces his retirement.

During his career Perkins has met some of the best boxers and wrestlers of his class and in the majority of his bouts has been successful. Seven years ago he came to this city from Annona, Minn., and has since made his headquarters here. His first fight encounter before local fans was with Burrell Smith, the colored middleweight, who gained quite a reputation as a clever milt artist throughout the northwest and who is still active in the ring. This was a ten round go and Perkins received the decision.

Perkins in his time has fought such men as Mike O'Dowd, Steamboat Bill Scott, Young Mahoney and Tony Caponi.

Perkins' recent activities have been in the mat game and as a wrestler he has made an enviable showing. He was last seen here in a wrestling match with George Carroll November 28 last, and won with ease.

Perkins says that he intends to go into business in the near future.

Cartelle Acid.
The use of cartelle acid as a disinfectant should be discouraged, but when it is used it must be borne in mind that to be efficacious it must be diluted in about twenty times its bulk of cold water.

BOARD MAILING QUESTIONNAIRES

As each day's list of questionnaires is mailed out an official notice from the draft board will be displayed in the New North office. By observing these notices a registrant will be able to ascertain the time when he should receive his questionnaire.

Questionnaires at the rate of sixty-four a day are being mailed to draft registrants in this county by the Oneida draft board. Questionnaires are being sent out according to the order number of the registrants, the first consignment being mailed last Saturday and will be continued each day, not including Sundays and holidays, until the work is completed. At sixty-four a day it is figured that all will not be mailed until January 10.

Registrants, who know their order numbers, are able to tell thru this system of mailing the dates on which they should receive questionnaires. Any registrant, who fails to receive his questionnaire on the day it is expected, should lose no time in notifying the draft board. A registrant should also inform the draft board if he has changed his address since registration day. If you know a registered man, who is where he is not likely to receive his questionnaire, it is your duty as his friend and a loyal citizen to give the draft board his present address.

Each registrant must bear in mind the fact that failure to receive the questionnaire does not excuse him from returning it to the draft board within the allotted time, which is seven days.

Failure to return the questionnaire within the allotted time means that the registrant will be placed in Class A, the first class to be drafted, and will have no right to appeal from that class.

Favor Coarse Bread.
The refined white flour now generally used is a comparatively modern innovation, the process for its development having been perfected within the last half century. This flour produces bread highly pleasing to the eye and palate, as compared with the coarse brown bread of our ancestors. But there is a growing tendency on the part of dietetic students and physicians to denounce white bread as destructive of health and vigor.

Christ Flowers.
Born of the clouds and darkness,
Of the frost and early snow,
When the summer blooms have faded,
The beautiful Christ flowers blow.
All through the budding springtime,
All through the summer's heat,
All through the autumn's glory
They hide their blossoms sweet.
But when the earth is lonely
And the bitter north winds blow,
With a smile of cheer for the dear old year
The Christmas blossoms blow.

Sweet as the dream of summer,
White as the drifting snow;
When our hearts are filled with grieving,
The beautiful Christ flowers blow.
Not all the south wind's wooing
Opens their secret heart,
Slender they grow and stately,
Guarding their life apart;
But when the earth is dreary
And heavy clouds hang low,
With their tender cheer for the way worn year
The Christmas blossoms blow.

Sweetest of all consolers
Fairest of flowers that grow!
When hopes and flowers have faded
The beautiful Christ flowers blow.
Bright in the cottage window,
Sweet in the darkened room,
Fair in the shortened sunlight,
Cheering the dusky gloom.
Oh, when our hearts are lonely
And clouds of care hang low,
What blessed cheer for our dying year
The Christmas blossoms blow!

Deep Breathing.
To maintain good health you should try to inflate your lungs to their normal capacity at all times, declares a physical instructor. The proper purification of the blood through oxygenation requires ample breathing. Prop your shoulders forward and then try to take a full breath. You will find it is impossible to do so in that position. Breathing is only partially accomplished with the shoulders forward and the breastbone depressed. The lower portion of the lungs cannot be emptied, and instead of receiving a supply of fresh air they remain filled with residual air.

Thought All "Steps" Cruel.
Nell's mother had been telling her the story of Cinderella, and the little girl was deeply impressed with the cruelty of the wicked stepmother. A day or two later, while playing with several other children, she heard Bobby's mother reprimand him severely for some misdemeanor. Rushing home she excitedly explained to her mother what had occurred and inquired breathlessly: "Is Bobby's mother step?"

LAMBERT'S

The Swedish Almanac.
The Swedish name almanac differs from English almanacs in giving, besides the usual information, a Christian name for each sex for every day of the year, says London Graphic. The names set forth have to receive the approval of the king. The object aimed at is to secure a greater choice of names for parents and to avoid the endless repetition of a dozen or so names. A similar name almanac is issued under royal authority in one of the German states.

Held Your Temper.
Get mad if you must, but don't fly off the handle, is the advice of a sage. When you express yourself others see what's in you, and as a rule see less than they thought was there; but if you are silent you have them guessing, and the chances are that they will think there's more in you than there really is—which will be greatly to your advantage.

Polishing Diamonds.
Before the polishing of a diamond is begun the rough stone must be held firmly. This is accomplished by building a solder mold for it. The mold is first roughly shaped by hand and heated. It is then reshaped as often as necessary to fit the stone perfectly. When it is exactly right, it is heated again and the stone dropped in. Held firmly by the snug solder mold, the stone can then be handled easily.

Minister Without Portfolio.
The phrase "minister without portfolio" means a member of a ministry or cabinet to whom no special department is assigned. The phrase is used only in England, and we have no corresponding phrase in this country. notes an international authority. Prior to December, 1916, the British cabinet consisted of the political chiefs or heads of the principal government departments, and exceeded 20 in number.

Maneuvering of Wings.
Riches make to themselves wings and fly away. So sometimes does love. So sometimes does wisdom. How would it do to take all possible precaution by clipping the wings?—Exchange.

COME ACROSS—IT'S YOUR DUTY

Remember Horrors of War-Torn Europe and Think of Safety and Comfort Here—
Then Join the Red Cross.

The good people of this community once more commemorate the nativity of the Christ Child with merry-making and gifts.

Ours is a prosperous community. None of us is likely to suffer this winter for want of food, clothing or shelter, though high prices and certain forced economies will make us realize the United States is at war thousands of miles away. A few of us who have given our boys to the nation may lose them. But generally speaking, we shall feel perfectly secure, and when we stop to think about it, we shall thank God more or less heartily for his blessings.

Over in France, which has a total population of about 35,000,000, probably 3,000,000 are in the army fighting off the invader. About 3,000,000 more—mostly women and children—are absolutely down and out. They are a part of the inhabitants of the great industrial district devastated by the German savages. Now these people are homeless, hungry, naked and sick. At least half of them have tuberculosis, with scarcely a fighting chance for life. The whole of France is making unheard of sacrifices to save the nation.

Poor little Belgium is a wreck—a dying wreck. Her small army has been practically exterminated. Her boys and old men have been shot down in cold blood by the Kaiser's herces. Her daughters have been dragged into slavery worse than death. Her babies have been impaled on bayonets and nailed to barn doors by playful Teutonic soldiers. About all that is left of Belgium is her deathless spirit.

And Serbia. Serbia is now but a name in history. A nation become a slaughter pen and charnel house. A people wiped clean off the earth.

What has been said of France applies equally to Italy, Roumania and Russian Poland.

Europe has been a hell of suffering and grief for three years. What have the last three years meant to the United States? Prosperity and peace.

Today all stricken Europe is uttering that age-old lamentation, "Out of the depths, Oh Lord, have I cried unto Thee; Lord hear my voice." And the American Red Cross is the instrument through which Providence is answering the prayer.

The Red Cross is "over there" now, performing a labor of mercy and paying a debt of fellowship on a scale never before known. But it must have your help and mine in order to carry on its vast enterprise in the name of humanity. So the organization is campaigning the nation for 15,000,000 members.

Every man, woman and child in this community ought to belong to the Red Cross. The membership fee is $1.00. Another dollar brings the member the Red Cross Magazine for a year.

Every $1.00 or $2.00 membership helps just so much to back up our American boys in khaki—helps just so much to take the frightful curse from the lives of millions of homeless, starving, freezing, diseased mothers and babies in devastated France, Serbia, Belgium, Poland and Roumania.

The finest Christmas gift you can make is a Red Cross membership. Don't fail to come across by Christmas eve!

Although the failure to receive letters from men in the service is not pleasant to relatives and friends at home, the adage "no news is good news" never was more true than at present. The report of every casualty at home or abroad is immediately wired or cabled to officials at Washington, being relayed from there without loss of time to the emergency address of the soldier or sailor affected. It is also at once released for publication in the news papers. No news of casualties has or will be held up.

No man in the service has received orders not to write home; he has been urged, on the contrary, to keep in touch with relatives and friends. The forces in France have at their disposal post cards giving information in regard to health and the receipt of letters and parcels, which may be dispatched without payment of postage.

Care is also taken to see that mail intended for soldiers and sailors reaches them promptly. Where the regimental and company designation of a soldier is not known it may be secured by application to the Adjutant General's office, Washington, D. C. In one week 1,674 letters with insufficient addresses were received at this office. On 1,232 the addresses were completed and they were forwarded, 123 were returned to senders, 58 went to the dead letter office because senders' addresses were not given, and the balance were held with the view that the addresses might be completed later.

TO REGISTRANTS

You are not required to pay any postage on a returned "Questionnaire" if you use the return envelope which is sent you with the "Questionnaire."

All registrants should have some member of the Legal Advisory Board, or one of their assistants (see list below) examine the "Questionnaire" and see that it is properly made out in all respects before returning it to the Local Board. This is important.

EMBARGO NOW ON EXPRESS MATTER

Beginning Tuesday there is a limited embargo on express shipments of more than five hundred pounds in weight continuing until Christmas, December 25, according to Gust Bronson, agent for the American Express companies here.

This regulation applies only to local shipments where the charge for carrying the shipments is too small to make up for the bother of handling them. Exceptions are made for such shipments as boxes, which are easy to handle on the trains.

Shipments east of Chicago is being delayed because of the shortage of cars. No car can be sent east until it is filled to capacity, so that the best possible use is made of those available.

LOGGERS APPEAL FOR PROHIBITION

The following resolution, adopted at the recent meeting of the Central Wisconsin Loggers' association held at Wausau, as given out for publication and copies thereof and to each forestry regiment now will be sent to each logging camp in France:

"Whereas, our country is in the midst of the greatest convulsion and destruction of life and property that the world has ever known, we believe it to be a duty to manifest our patriotic spirit by unfurling of our flags,

"Therefore, be it resolved that the members of Central Wisconsin Loggers' association, fly the national colors at each of its logging camps.

"Whereas, our government has formed forestry regiments for active service in the army.

Be it resolved, that the Central Wisconsin Loggers' association extend its best wishes and God-speed to the brave men who have enlisted in the service of the allied cause.

"Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the regiments now in the service in France.

"Whereas, our country, being in a state of war, is faced with the necessity of co-ordinating its resources of men, money and material in the most efficient manner possible:

"Be it resolved, that the Central Wisconsin Loggers' association support the president in any measures he may deem necessary to accomplish these results and pledge our unqualified co-operation and loyalty to our government.

"Whereas, the Central Wisconsin Loggers' association believes that national and state prohibition would be a great factor toward conservation and effecting greater efficiency and happiness throughout the United States, now, therefore,

"Be it resolved, that we urge our representatives in Congress to vote in favor of the submission of an amendment to the constitution to effect national prohibition."

FLAG POLE FOR COURT HOUSE

A steel flag pole is soon to be placed on the court house dome. The pole is now in the course of construction and is expected to arrive in this city shortly after the first of the year. A large American flag which had already been received at the court house will float from the pole.

Man's Efforts Show Worth.

Character is best seen in the pursuit of its own ideals. Left to himself, man finds the level of his own thinking. His leisure hours are the index of his inner worth. It's what a fellow tries to be that shows his aim, declares Grit. It's easy enough to move along with the flowing tide. It's struggle against odds that tells of character. The world may never see your effort because it is engrossed in itself. But you will find the response of effort in increased strength and multiplied power. Even if you never succeed in realizing an ideal, you are a better man for having made the attempt.

Freak Newspapers.

One of the most remarkable freak newspapers ever printed was the Luminara, published in Madrid. It was printed with ink containing phosphorus so that the paper could be read in the dark. Another curiosity was called the Illegal, printed with non-poisonous ink on thin sheets of dough, which could be eaten, thus furnishing nourishment for body as well as mind. Le Bien-Etre promised those who subscribed for forty years a pension and free burial.

Camouflage.

Camouflage is a French word of Italian origin (camuffare, disguise) and as used in war dispatches connotes disguise by masking, as artillery, with an arbor of leaves built around a gun, or as an observer on outpost duty, a sharpshooter, etc., with whisks of straw to imitate a shock of sheaves of grain while concealing his body. The word is pronounced ka-mu-flazh—the first "a" as in "artistic," the "u" as in "rule," the final "a" as in "art," and the "zh" as "z" in "azure."

GROWING NEED IN WISCONSIN

(By Rev. Peter LaPorte)

After years of work in northern Wisconsin, I am led to see that the need of the work of the Sunday school missionary is not decreasing but is rapidly increasing. Every day new families are moving into this district, and they are trying to build up homes for themselves on the cut-over lands. These people come from different states; in fact, I have just made the acquaintance of a family that came all the way from Wyoming to clear a farm in Wisconsin. Just to show how the need of the missionary work is increasing, I shall tell of my last trip through Oneida county. I was on my way to visit a Sunday school at Harshaw, when about six miles from Rhinelander, my home town, I noticed by the wayside four women with a group of children. I immediately went up to them, and after a few inquiries I found that they were new settlers in the community and desired to have a Sunday service in one of their homes as soon as possible, as they have no school building as yet.

Leaving them I went on another six miles, and I found another new settlement where no less than sixteen families have moved in. These people are toiling hard to clear up a little land and to build homes for themselves. Nevertheless, they are anxious to have a Sunday school, and I have promised to have service there as soon as possible and organize a Sunday school.

After visiting the Sunday school at Harshaw, which I found in a flourishing condition, I went to Eagle River in Vilas county. I arrived there on Friday evening. On Saturday I visited seven families and invited them to a service which was to be held in one of the homes. The home was just a one-room house, and into this room we crowded thirty-five people while fifteen stood outside and listened attentively. In all my experiences I have not met people so anxious for the gospel as were these, and I organized the Sanborne Sunday school, which is nine miles from Eagle River, the county seat of Vilas county.

While at Eagle River the following day, I was informed of other communities where there are new settlers who are without religious services. I planned to visit those communities as soon as possible.

WHAT an interest centered in that babe, wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger at Bethlehem! Prophets were interested, angels were interested, the ages have been most deeply interested since. The shepherds had perhaps some premonition. The seventy weeks of Daniel's prophecy were about fulfilled. It may be at that very time they were talking of the coming of Christ.

Suddenly their attention was arrested by a strange sight in the heavens. It grew brighter and took the form of an angel, and then they heard a voice announcing the birth of Christ as glad tidings for all people, not to the Jews only. Then suddenly the air was filled with angels singing as if they had come right out from the air.

We know not their wonderful song, but part came to mortal ears, "Glory to God in the highest," etc. We know not who those angels were, but we fancy they were the redeemed. Adam was there; Eve was there. Eve, who in her maternal earnestness declared at the birth of her firstborn, "I have got a man from the Lord," hoping that that was he who should bruise the serpent's head. Now, in the fullness of time she had come to witness the birth of the babe who was to be the Saviour of her race. David, Elijah, Moses, the patriarchs, we believe, were with the heavenly host.

This song reveals three things:

First.—The glorification of God through the incarnation. God has glory through his vast work in nature, his providence building up and casting down nations, etc.

In the incarnation there was special glory. It was glory to God in the highest—highest, in that it was above all other glory, in that it extended to all time and in that it wrought such wondrous good.

Second.—The great results to the earth. It would result in peace. Strife, thorns and thistles were abounding. The earth was torn and bleeding by constant contention. With Christ came peace. The result would be universal peace.

Third.—The effect on the individual man. "Good will toward men," from one another, from God. Out of this good will would finally spring peace on earth and glory to God in the highest.—Dr. Matthew Simpson.

LEWIS CAPTURES THRILLING BOUT

The following article, taken from a Savannah, Ga., paper tells of a bout that Bob Fredericks, formerly of Rhineland, had with Constant LeMarin in that city on the 3rd of December, and according to the account it must have been some match and was not a walk-away for either man. The account is as follows:

Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, recognized champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, made a garish finish in his bout with Constant LeMarin, the French-Canadian grappler at the Savannah Theatre last night when, after losing the first fall, he came back in grand style winning the second and third falls in jig time and incidentally captured a sensational and hair-raising encounter from his mighty opponent. The first fall, which was obtained by LeMarin, came after an hour and twenty-nine minutes of wrestling and resulted from the deadly grip of the French-Canadian's, the full hammerlock. Clouds of doubt then began to form in the mind of the crowd and many bets were made that the wrestling championship of the world would change hands. But this was not the choice of Fate, for Ed. Lewis returned to the mat with a deathless determination to conquer. And conquer he did, securing the second fall of the match in seventeen minutes and thirty seconds. This put him on equal terms with his opponent and put the huge gathering on a keen edge as to the final outcome of the mill.

Before the spectators had time to realize what was happening, the "strangler" clamped a headlock on LeMarin and, hurling him bodily thru the air, pinned his shoulders with much force to the mat for the third fall. It required just two minutes and twenty-five seconds to send LeMarin to defeat on this occasion, and, regaining their equilibrium, the fans broke out in a great cheer for Lewis.

WORRY IN STORE FOR LUMBERMEN

At a meeting of the Central Wisconsin Loggers' association, held at Wausau, the outlook of the present winter's logging operations was discussed. Every logger present realized the seriousness of the car situation, but all expressed their intention of meeting the situation as best they can by decking to a more general extent and being satisfied with cars as they will be able to get them.

Almost as serious a situation, they agreed was that of securing and holding labor. From $40 to $50 a month and board is being offered but the men are not staying at their work as well as in previous years. Board costs practically $1 a day per man and the loggers say they were unable to pay more than $50 per month in addition to the high cost of board. It is expected, however, that with cold weather setting in, the men at camp will prove less discontented and will cooperate with the logging companies in the present crisis.

Loggers reported plenty of available teams although the high cost of horse feed is a feature to be contended with. The matter of using tractors was discussed and a representative of one of the large tractor companies, who claimed that tractors could be used in places where it was impossible to use horses and that they would do the work more rapidly than horses, made arrangements to give a demonstration some time during the present winter.

HURRAH FOR BLACKWELL!

W. F. Patner, Superintendent of the Flanner-Steger Land and Lumber Co., at Blackwell, writes of the loyalty of that town and says: "We have over subscribed our allotment every time. Our allotment on the liberty bonds was $5,000; we raised $6,350. We also collected $185.00 for the Red Cross; $125.00 for the Y. M. C. A.; $125.00 for the Green Bay Orphans' Home, and over $100 for the Knights of Columbus." This is certainly 100 per cent loyalty.

ELKS' HOSPITAL FOR U. S. ARMY

America's first great hospital for the reconstruction of wounded men has been accepted by the government from the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The hospital buildings will be erected on Parker Hill, near the Robert Brigham Hospital, in Boston, at a cost of $250,000. The money was taken from the Elks' $1,000,000 war relief fund.

With American wounded being actually carried back from the fighting front, Surgeon-General Gorgas' office declared itself equipped and ready to rebuild human wreckage into able-bodied men.

A string of reclamation hospitals extends from the French lines to the shores of this country. Every device and resource known to science is at hand to rebuild nearly every part of the human frame. Men with half their faces shot away by shrapnel will get new jawbones from their ribs and new noses and new cheeks from the cartilage and tissues on other parts of their bodies.

The Surgeon-General's staff believes the value of this service to America cannot be estimated. Thousands of men who would be wrecks without proper treatment will be sent back to the fighting, and others will be rebuilt and taught trades that will make them economic assets instead of liabilities. Even a man deaf, dumb, blinded and paralyzed from the waist down will be taught a trade at which he can work.

Plans are being completed for a big base hospital in this country where all totally disabled men will be sent after the European hospitals have done all they can for them. In this hospital additional efforts will be made to improve their condition.

In re-educating the deaf, dumb or blind, they will be sent to private institutions at Government expense. Those desiring technical training will be sent to technical schools. Others will be trained for civil service, agricultural work, or whatever they choose.

Gen. Gorgas's idea is to build few hospitals in this country exclusively for this reclamation work. The greater part of such surgery will be done just behind the lines—Philadelphia North American.

BIRNAMWOOD IS LOSER 12 TO 45

(Contributed)

Birnamwood threw quite a fright into athletic circles last Friday when they told us of having defeated Wittenberg, last year's state champions, the week before at Wittenberg by a score of 21-20. However, our boys braced up and determined to take their defeat fighting, with the result that they had no defeat to take, but secured a well-earned victory by a score of 45-12. The first half of the game was very swift and interesting. The local line up was Westgate, Tuttle, Bronson, Hergren, and Sorenson. During the second half an entirely new quintette was put in, consisting of Peterson, Remo, Bonnie, Aker and Riek. Birnamwood has undoubtedly improved greatly since their appearance here two years ago.

An interesting preliminary between the North Side and South Side boys resulted in a victory for the former.

Willard Dayton, '15 now a junior at U. W. has been recently the recipient of many honors at that institution. He has earned his "W" has been made captain of the track team for 1918, and as been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, an honorary fraternity to which but four juniors are admitted yearly, and which implies the highest scholastic attainment.

Howard Reed, '11 has enlisted in the navy. He is at present a medical student at Rush in Chicago, and hopes to be allowed to complete his course before being called.

The students have shown themselves ready and willing to enlist and do their best in all sorts of civic service during the past term; the number of calls made upon them would be a surprise to most people; they will greatly appreciate your

aid. Buy a ticket, anyway, and if you can't use it yourself, give it to some one who can.

Interesting rhetorical exercises were held in the high school room Friday. During January and the first half of February the exercises will be in charge of the juniors.

Wednesday night Fred Johnson, '20, spoke "The Yellow Dog" at the Majestic, occupying the time allotted to the Four Minute Man. The recitation was well rendered, and showed signs of considerable work, and a natural bent for public speaking. Saturday a number of girls from the high school sang the patriotic song, "Over there," responding to a well deserved encore.

Christmas Mystery Plays.

On their return from the Holy Land the pilgrims and crusaders brought new subjects for theatrical representation, founded on the objects of their devotion and incidents in their wars, and the early mysteries and other plays of Christmas, among them that of St. George and the dragon, which has survived to modern times, probably owe their origin to this period.

One's Career.

Strictly speaking, every life is a career because it is a course that is run from start to finish, but as generally used the term implies an unusual life record, something exceptional and out of the ordinary, says a professor. Childhood is a period of life, but it is not a career. One's career is the life one lives and the record one makes whether it becomes known to the public or not. The term public career is applied to lives largely spent in the public service.

Demand for Imitation Leather.
Imitation leathers of certain grades and colors have a real market in Venice at this time, and the trade is growing, writes a correspondent. Formerly the demand was found almost exclusively among the makers of art furniture, but this has decreased because transport difficulties and restrictions placed upon articles of luxury have brought the manufacture and exportation of art furniture almost to a standstill.

WILL STILL SELL MILK AT DEPOT

F. W. Meen of the Rhinelander Creamery and Produce company announces that milk and cream will continue to be sold at the company's milk depot on Stevens street.

Ancient Mirrors.

The mirrors of antiquity were principally of bronze, highly polished and about the size of an ordinary hand mirror. They were usually provided with a handle and sometimes were mounted on a stand. The principal feature of these ancient mirrors was the design incised on the back. They belong to the period about 400 to 500 B. C. During the middle ages, from the twelfth to the end of the fifteenth century, pocket mirrors or small hand mirrors carried at the girdle were considered a necessary part of a lady's toilet.

Stove-Heated Garden.

The garden of James Swartz of Holter Dam, Mont., is heated by a stove from the inside, and is protected on the outside by a curtain which is lowered about it on a frame. The garden is seven feet square and consists of a series of terraces built around a hollow center to a height of ten feet. Mr. Swartz believes this arrangement will permit a longer growing season.

Favors Early Motherhood.

Doctor Bell writes in the Journal of Heredity, Washington, D. C., with the statistical proof that young women unquestionably make better mothers than those who have postponed the responsibility of maternity until after thirty years of age. He favors early marriages and youthful motherhood on the ground that, contrary to popular opinion, the offspring of young mothers have a finer vitality and are the peers if not the superiors intellectually of children born of older parents.

Killed in Bathtub.

A young man was found dead in the bath tub in his home in Toronto some time ago. Investigation showed that he had been killed by coming in contact with a bare electric lamp cord, carrying 113 volts, while standing in the water.

BIG PROGRESS IN SEAL CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Charles B. Peterson who is in charge of the Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign in this city, gives very encouraging reports pertaining to the progress of the work and says the sale will run ahead of any previous year. Over three hundred and fifty dollars has been received up to date.

January 1 marks the end of the campaign here and it is hoped before that time everybody will respond. Every penny counts and any amount no matter how small, will help swell this city's quota.

CLOSE FOR HOLIDAYS

The city schools close Friday afternoon for the holiday recess of two weeks. Appropriate exercises will be held in many of the grades. The teachers will depart for their various homes Friday night and Saturday.

DO YOUR BIT FOR THE BOYS AT THE FRONT—JOIN RED CROSS

When you can make a man, woman or even a child, realize that this is his war, you will have gained a Red Cross member. When you can make these people realize that the Red Cross is on an errand of mercy to the fighting men at the front and to the homeless and suffering non-combatants, you have also gained a member for the Red Cross.

Every county being organized for active work, with well known business men acting as chairmen. The goal of the membership committee is to enroll in the chapter, its branches and auxiliaries, not less than 20 percent of the population of its jurisdiction. If the chapter has 20 per cent enrolled now, it will aim to increase it to 40 per cent, or even 100 per cent. It is pointed out, that while all cannot serve at the war front, all can contribute to the welfare of those who are there.

The fee ready, too, that he may not delay in getting on his way. Every one who solicits a membership has many others on his list that he must visit—be one of the 500,000 Wisconsin members.

The membership fee for the Red Cross is only $1—and $1 can do a lot of good. With each subscription a window flag will be given, with a large red cross in the center. For every additional membership in one family, a smaller cross will be given to be pasted on the white field of the blue bordered flag. When a flag has a cross for each member of the family, it is 100 percent service flag, and on Christmas Eve, it is asked that a candle be lighted and placed behind the flag that passers by may see that the household is a patriotic one.

It is your war, your army, your country, your Red Cross—when a solicitor for your membership fee comes after it, let him see that you are honored by his call—have boy back.

Three Kinds of Forest Fires.

There are three kinds of forest fires—the "surface fire," which merely runs in the leaves and ground litter; the "ground fire," that covers the underbrush and the dense forests, and the "crown fire," the most dangerous and terrifying of all. A crown fire is usually caused when the ground or surface fire reaches the top of a ridge or knoll, and the increased draft carries the blaze up the trunks of the trees to the tops of the "crowns." It is the crown fires which have made the great forest fires of history. Surrounding the burning area by a trench from which everything down to the mineral soil has been removed is the only kind of fire line which will stop a ground fire, and it will often stop a surface fire. For surface fire "whipping" or using brush branches or water soaked sacks to whip the burning leaves at the edge of the fire back into the burned area is most effective. Sand as well as water is valuable in fighting this kind of fire, too. There is only one way to fight a crown fire—that is, by "back firing"—fighting fire with fire.

 fact, the cards call for a mixture of oats and corn or oats and some other kind of small grain. What is needed over and above the rations must be procured by the owner. These rations are way below what the horses need when at work, and it is admitted that they must be spared as much as possible, because they do not get enough to eat. Poor animals! Even dumb brutes must suffer on account of the cussedness of man!

The free harbor of Copenhagen has been a great boon to Denmark. Now it is proposed to extend and improve the public harbor at a cost of $12-000,000 or $15,000,000. It is no new scheme, however. Former Harbor Director H. C. V. Moller has spent several years in perfecting the plans. The plans call for extensions both north and south, and new additions at Her-shalene. The work is so stupendous that it will require several years at the very best.

NORWAY.

The room famine in Christiania must be something terrible. A mister who wanted to rent four rooms for his family tells the following story: An advertisement offered just what he wanted, and he started to get the rooms. But 200 different parties had come before him. The wife of the owner of the house had heard so many pitiful stories through the telephone that she was overwhelmed and finally shut off the connections. Some parties had offered as much as $400 as a bounty besides the regular rent, if they could have the rooms. Less than 20 years ago hundreds of speculators were completely ruined because they could not rent out new buildings which they had put up during a boom. That crash seems to have scared people to such an extent that they have gone to the other extreme with regard to the putting up of new buildings.

Hans J. Hansen has been known as one of the most prominent socialists in Tunc. Last summer he was engaged to unload the wood ordered for the commune at the Grenaker quays, and he hired boys to do the work for him. He paid them poorly, and thereby was able to make from $10 to $13 a day himself. The boys did not like this arrangement, and those who bought the wood also found out that they had to pay so much more for the wood. They finally decided to take care of the unloading themselves, and now Hansen has plenty of time to ponder over the difficulty of harmonizing theory and practice when money is in sight.

Capt. Roald Amundsen has returned all the decorations of honor conferred upon him by Germans on account of the manner in which the German submarines are treating the Norwegian merchant marine. Now Capt. Otto Sverdrup has followed the example of Amundsen. Captain Sver-drup wrote as follows to the German ambassador in Christiania: "In view of the numerous outrages perpetrated by the German navy against defenseless countrymen of mine, I beg your excellency to return to your government the inclosed Grand Cross of the Prussian Order of the Crown, which I hereby refuse to keep."

Vilhelm Krag, a noted author, has written a newspaper article in which he sizes up the Norwegian-Americans as a decidedly undesirable bunch of people. As might be expected, the Norwegian-American press has taken the man to task for his harshness.
 Prominent individuals on this side of the water have also been heard from on this very interesting subject.

A bunch of wounded Russian captives of war have been returned to Russia after having been cured. But they are all unfit for military duty.
 Some of them have learned to speak Norwegian fairly well, and they are all babbling over with gratitude to the Norwegians for their kindness.

Thirteen Norwegian steamers of a gross tonnage of 10,000 were lost in November by causes arising from the war. Forty-one Norwegian lives were lost through the same cause. Up to December 1 Norway has lost about 600 ships in this manner. Norwegian papers assert that new and powerful ships are being sunk without trace.

Owing to the scarcity of houses the government of the commune of Kirke-bo has resolved that no foreigners shall be permitted to live in the commune.

SWEDEN.

Sweden already is making preliminary arrangements for her trans-Atlantic commerce after the war. Four trans-Atlantic trading companies have recently been established, giving Sweden five large trans-Atlantic trading companies with a capital stock of about $3,500,000. Transmarina Kom-paniet does a large business with South America and has recently extended its trade to the United States and Russia. Nordeuropelska Handelskompaniet will import goods directly from transoceanic countries to Sweden, and will also establish organizations abroad for the sale of Swedish goods, especially in Russia,
 America and Asia, possibly by the end of the war. Another company is Svenska Handelsoch Sjöfartskom-paniet, Stockholm. It has a shipping tonnage of about 12,000 tons, and will particularly direct activities toward tropical countries. Svenska Oceankompaniet was established last spring,
 and has its head office at Gothenburg.
 This company will open branch offices in foreign countries, where it intends to purchase products. Another recently organized company, to begin activities after the war, is Svenska Transatlantiska Kompaniet, Helsingborg. It will establish branch offices and storehouses in New York, Buenos Aires, Marseilles, Odessa and Iliga, and will import grain and foodstuffs for the Swedish market and also open departments for export and shipping.

The railway department has issued rules for the saving of oil and gas on the railroads of the country. The lamps must be lighted as late as possible in the afternoon, and it is emphasized that the aim of lighting the cars is not to enable the passengers to read newspapers, etc., but to make it easy for the trainmen to control the tickets of the passengers and for the passengers to take care of their luggage.
 Only one toilet room is to be open in each car until the train approaches a station. Only one lamp is to be kept burning in each vestibule. The stations are to be lighted as dimly as possible. Acetylene gas is to be used to some extent, and a beginning has been made by lighting the invalid trains with this kind of gas.

What is known about the men in the new cabinet indicates that they will regard a policy of genuine neutrality as essential to the present and future safety of Sweden. Apart from this basic sentiment, they are all known as having strong leanings toward the side of the entente allies.
 Neither threats nor bribes can move them into an unwarranted break with Germany, but, on the other hand, they will be sure to put an end to future attempts at turning Sweden into a cat's paw for Germany or placing the interests of their own people behind those of the dominating neighbor to the south.

Marcus Wallenberg, brother of the former Swedish foreign minister, and Gunnar Carlson, president of the Trans-Atlantic Steamship company of Gothenburg, have been designated as Sweden's delegates to negotiate at London with American delegates regarding food supplies for Sweden, tonnage and on all questions connected with the situation. Ira Nelson Morris, the American minister, conferred at the foreign office regarding the situation.

The metric system has been the only legal standard of weights and measures in Sweden for the past 23 years. But in many crafts the old system of weights and measures is still in vogue. In the Borggardsvarden, a periodical, a contributor points out the advantage of having a uniform system of weights and measures and proposes a general discussion for the purpose of devising some means of getting forever rid of the old systems.

A terrible accident is reported from the aviation grounds at Malmstätt.
 After a trip though the air Lieuts.
 Baron von Blixen-Finecke and Baron H. G. Pfeif landed safely. But shortly afterwards the machine was wrecked by an explosion, and the flames finished the work of destruction. When people came to the place both men were not only dead, but their bodies were charred.

The Swedish government has taken steps to ensure the Göteborgs Af-tonblad on account of an article appearing in that paper August 2. It contained strong and uncontrolled in-vectives against England.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Wallensteen, nee Gelhaar, who was once a noted opera singer, has celebrated her eightieth birthday. She became well and favorably known in the early sixties.

Lovers of coffee in Sweden—and they are many—feel pretty blue, as the supply of coffee is running very low and a further supply from abroad is not expected for some time.

The Swedish foreign office has denied the report published in Paris and elsewhere to the effect that the Swedish legation in Petrograd offered or is about to offer its services as intermediary between the bolshevik government and Germany. The Swedish minister to Russia, it is explained, joined with other neutral diplomatic representatives in acknowledging the receipt of Mr. Trotsky's note regarding armistice and peace negotiations, but this was merely an act of courtesy and nowise involving recognition of the Lenettes.
